++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with bright spells, but rain in the north.

Today:
Plenty of cloud around but much of central and southern Scotland dry with some brighter spells, the best of any sunshine around the Solway Firth. However, showers or long outbreaks in the north, the rain most persistent through the Highlands.

Tonight:
The thicker cloud and outbreaks of rain will slow nudge south into the Central Belt with clearer conditions developing across the Northern and Western Isles.

Monday:
A damp start across much of Scotland. Brighter conditions across the north will develop more widely during the day, but the Borders and Dumfries and Galloway seeing little improvement.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Bright with sunny spells on Tuesday, patchy rain later in the northwest. Rain and drizzle mainly affecting the north and west on Wednesday and Thursday, brighter spells in the east.
